LIVING WITNESSES

People Who Have Been Cured of Catarrh, Rheumatism in All Its Torturing Phases, Asthma, Kidney Disease, Dyspepsia, Insomnia and Nervousness Are Now Well and Enjoying Life.

Sarah H. Smith, of Pineville, Bucks county, Pa., says: "I have had rheumatism for the past twenty-five years, and it was chronic when it began. I tried MUNYON'S RHEUMATISM CURE. I had tried every remedy that was suggested, but none of them did me any good. I suffered a great deal and was in almost constant pain. Finally I began to use MUNYON'S RHEUMATISM CURE. In a short time I was entirely cured, and have not had the slightest symptom since."

Prof. Munyon has a separate remedy for each disease. For instance, the Kidney cure contains the medicinal principles which act upon the kidneys, and restore their functions to the normal condition; so with every disease, one remedy for each disease, no cure-all is claimed, and here is where Prof. Munyon has solved the problem of rapid and permanent cures. From any physician's office, "Munyon's Guide to Health" free, and his Improved Homoeopathic Remedies at mostly 25 cents a bottle. You can then cure yourself and save the doctor's bill.

Look at Prices.

The Casket is in receipt of more special bargains. Diamond brooches and pendants, $40, worth $50; gold watch, $75, up to $250; diamond rings from $5 to $500; gold watches, $15 to $250; silver sugar shakers, $1.25; butter knives, sugar sifters, cream ladies at $1.50; tea spoons, into fancy patterns at $4 per set. Everything of worth at bottom prices to do the work well. We have heretofore helped our help almost entirely to groceries, provisions, and fuel. In some few special cases, a little help in other directions has been given. Occasionally barefooted children have been furnished with shoes, and I sincerely trust that we could do more in that direction. It is pitiful to see the many half-dressed children that come under our observation, during the cold weather, and I trust that a more generous support may be given the association, enabling it to provide more generally for the comfort and health of those coming under its care. I urge upon every member of the association the importance of exerting their influence in securing members and contributions.

"For a detailed report of receipts and disbursements I refer you to the treasurer's statement, and it is due to that very efficient officer to say that his duties during the past year were very much increased by the manner in which our purchases were made rendering it necessary to do more book-keeping. Rigid economy has been observed in conducting the affairs of the association, and contributors to our fund can feel assured that their donations were most effectively applied. I return thanks to the directors for their co-operation and to our visitor and secretary for their faithful service."

THE UNITED CHARITIES

The Annual Meeting of the Organization Held at its Headquarters Last Night.

PRESIDENT ROPER MAKES HIS REPORT.

Showing the Work of the Organization During the Past Year—A Gratifying Exhibit of Charitable Deeds—Officers Elected for the Ensuing Year—Treasurer's Report.

The annual meeting of the United Charities was held last night at the rooms of the organization in the Masonic Temple on Freemason street. A large number of the leading people of the city were present, and much interest was manifested in the work of aiding the poor, to which the United Charities is devoted.

Captain John L. Roper, the President, occupied the chair.

The first business was the reports of officers, President Roper's being as follows: "Gentlemen—Another year has passed and we have met together for the purpose of reviewing the work of the association since our last annual meeting, and to consider what is necessary to improve the work of the association in relieving the distress of the poor during the ensuing year, and with our increasing population, without a proportionate increase of employment for them, makes the question of providing for their necessities a matter of deep concern, and one that should receive the thoughtful consideration of every man and woman who has the welfare of their fellowmen at heart. It is well known that there is a great scarcity of labor in this city, especially for women and children, and that the factories where employment is adapted to them can be secured. Therefore, a great many, by enforced idleness, are unable to earn their daily bread. About the only employment open to women generally is in the factories, and that is extremely limited, and the competition for it is so meagre that it scarcely suffices to keep soul and body together. If all expended in provisions, to say nothing of rent, fuel and clothes. What we need in Norfolk is factories, and until we have them and thereby enable to give employment to the great army of unemployed we can not hope for that measure of prosperity for our city that we wish to see, and until then we must continue to care for those who cannot provide for themselves."

"As will be seen by the report of the treasurer, a larger sum of money than usual was expended during the past year, and from the manner in which it was expended greater benefits than before were given for the amount expended, although the same work was done for those connected with the association. The groceries and provisions were bought at wholesale prices and distributed under the supervision of the association, and from its rooms, thus giving the benefit of the saving in prices for distribution, and we derived a further benefit by distributing ourselves and by receiving donations in the way of groceries and provisions. We can not estimate the amount, as per treasurer's report, of the amount of $400 in value, all of which were acknowledged, but not taken up by the treasurer, as his accounts only show that amount of cash having passed through his hands, so that we may add $500 worth of groceries, provisions and vegetables that were given, adding to much to those purchased. We can also add at least $100 for coal and wood distributed by donations, making that item about $1,500, or 1,200 loads of coal and wood, all of which we cannot say that we gave effectually upon charity."

"Now, as to the future: We are commencing the year with a very small amount in the treasury, and a large part of that contributed very recently by generous friends of the Association. We have more than the usual calls upon us at this season of the year, but unable as yet to commence general distribution, caring only for the most destitute; but very soon we must expect cold weather, when a general distribution of fuel and provisions will be necessary. That there is a great deal of want, even now, there is no doubt whatever. There are many idle people and very many pitiful appeals for help, and but for much private help there would be more or less suffering. It is to be regretted that the association does not have a more hearty co-operation of those who are citizens generally. What is a burden to one, comparatively, would be very light to one who should give and can do so to some extent. While our work is increasing our membership is decreasing, and our contributors are a very small part of those who could give. Our beneficiaries are not counted, and a portion of the city, but from all parts of the city, and even beyond the city limits. We should have at least $5,000 to do the work well. We have heretofore helped our help almost entirely to groceries, provisions, and fuel. In some few special cases, a little help in other directions has been given. Occasionally barefooted children have been furnished with shoes, and I sincerely trust that we could do more in that direction. It is pitiful to see the many half-dressed children that come under our observation, during the cold weather, and I trust that a more generous support may be given the association, enabling it to provide more generally for the comfort and health of those coming under its care. I urge upon every member of the association the importance of exerting their influence in securing members and contributions."

"For a detailed report of receipts and disbursements I refer you to the treasurer's statement, and it is due to that very efficient officer to say that his duties during the past year were very much increased by the manner in which our purchases were made rendering it necessary to do more book-keeping. Rigid economy has been observed in conducting the affairs of the association, and contributors to our fund can feel assured that their donations were most effectively applied. I return thanks to the directors for their co-operation and to our visitor and secretary for their faithful service."

The report was received, and Colonel George Tall's report as treasurer, was read. This report showed a balance on hand of $272.26, while during the year $3,546.22 were expended. Of this amount $1,398.67 was for groceries and provisions, and $1,391.75 for coal and wood. The society also paid out about $160 for special relief, such as rent for poor people, shoes, &c. The colored people were also given aid to the extent of $221.25.

The following officers were then elected: President, Captain John L. Roper; Vice President, Captain R. P. Loyal; Treasurer, Colonel George Tall; Secretary, John C. Taylor. The Board of Directors will include these officers and General R. L. Page, George H. Davies, Barton Myers, L. Page, Charles H. Hey, Luther Sheldon, R. W. Stires, James H. Watters, and R. S. Cohn.

The affairs of the organization were discussed at some length, and the meeting adjourned.

THE RENDEZVOUS OFF.

Secretary Herbert Expresses Regret That the Exigencies of the Service Prevents the Same.

Secretary Herbert finds that he is not able to comply with the wishes of the Business Men's Association to rendezvous the vessels of the North Atlantic squadron in Hampton Roads. He states that since his interview with the committee at Newport News it has become necessary to send the vessels to navy-yards for needed repairs, and stores, previous to their winter cruise in the Caribbean Sea. The following is the correspondence:

Norfolk, Va., Oct. 31, 1895.

Hon. H. A. Herbert, Secretary of the Navy, Washington, D. C.

Dear Sir—In compliance with your wish expressed to the Committee of the Business Men's Association, of this city, after they saw you on the occasion of the launching of the gunboats Nashville and Wilmington, at Newport News, I wrote you in relation to the direct rendezvous of the vessels attached to the North Atlantic station in Hampton Roads, such day or days as you may think desirable.

As you are aware a large number of the people of this country, especially from the Middle and Western States, are visiting the Atlanta Exposition, and as many of them have never seen a modern battleship, it is considered that a rendezvous in the Roads would afford them an excellent opportunity of forming an idea of our navy.

Since I saw you the committee has been in correspondence with the officials of the railroads terminating at Norfolk, and has expressed their willingness to give every facility to visitors to Atlanta to visit Hampton Roads in order to see these great ships of the North Atlantic squadron. The committee would suggest the latter part of November, between the 22d and 30th, in order that the intervening time might be employed in making known to the country the fact that the vessels are to rendezvous in the Roads.

In behalf of the committee I beg to express thanks for your courteous reply to the letter of the 21st inst. It was not only appreciated by them, but by the Business Association they represented.

Very respectfully yours,

M. GLENNAN.

Chairman Committee Business Men's Association.

Washington, Nov. 5, 1895.

Sir—I have to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 31st ultimo, referring to our recent interview at Newport News in regard to having the vessels rendezvous in Hampton Roads this month.

Since our conversation it has become necessary to send the vessels to navy-yards for certain needed repairs, and to get the stores required for their winter's cruise.

It will not be practicable to assemble the vessels in Hampton Roads at the time you specify, or even later. The interests of the service require that the important work upon which the squadron has been engaged for some months past be continued. With this object in view, the department proposes to send the squadron to the Caribbean Sea, as soon as the vessels can leave the navy-yards.

Regretting that the exigencies of the service prevent me from complying with your request, I am,

Very respectfully,

H. A. HERBERT.

Secretary.

Mr. M. Glennan, Chairman Committee Business Men's Association, Norfolk, Va.

AMUSEMENTS.

"MERCHANT OF VENICE" TO-NIGHT. Folks herabouts should not let the idea get into their heads that the classic dramatic representation of the Charles B. Hanford, Ethel E. Spencer, Nora O'Brien Company are not first-class, because prices for seats are not advanced. Money is tight and many persons who can afford to spend $1.00 might refuse, if called upon to do so, the back of a $2 note by extracting a $1.50 from it, for a seat. This is the frank truth of the matter. The performances will be as fine in every detail as if more money was charged to witness of them. The supporting company is composed of none but trained and adroit actors. There is not a bungle in even the smallest part. And, as for the playing of the three stars, it is of surpassing polish. They will present "The Merchant of Venice" to-night.

"Romeo and Juliet," by special request, to-morrow matinee, and "Othello" to-morrow (Saturday) night. Some idea of the splendid variety of the new scenery used in "The Merchant of Venice" may be had from this synopsis:

Act I—Scene 1. The Grand Canal, Venice. Ducal palace in distance. (Thos. G. Moses). Scene 2. A room in Portia's house at Belmont. (Ernest Albert). Scene 3. Same as scene 1.

Act II—Scene 1. The Jewish quarter, Venice. (Moses). Scene 2. A street in Venice. (Hilton C. Stemmer). Scene 3. Same as scene 1.

Act III—The same.

Act IV—Portia's house at Belmont. (Moses).

Act V—A court of justice, Venice. (Moses).

Act VI—Portia's garden, Belmont. (Moses).

"THE TWO ORPHANS."—D'Ennery's beautiful emotional drama will be presented by Kate Claxton at the Academy of Music next Monday night on an elaborate scale. Kate Claxton's name is a household word with theatre-going people. She is an actress of sterling merit, and by true artistic ability has achieved a reputation second to none in the world.

In "The Two Orphans," a characterization which she has made a part of the history of the stage.

THE EPWORTH LEAGUE

A Union of All the Several Branches In This Section Consummated Last Night.

ENTHUSIASTIC WORK ADVOCATED.

Rev. Dr. A. Coke Smith Strongly Urges Organization of the Church Workers—A Full Set of Officers Elected—A Committee Appointed to Prepare By-Laws and Report.

At Granby Street M. E. Church last night, a meeting was formed of all the branches of the Epworth League in this city, Portsmouth and Berkley. Rev. W. B. Beauchamp presided, and after the rendition of several hymns, he made a statement of the work proposed to be accomplished by the Epworth League, urging more life and animation on the part of the membership.

A temporary organization was then effected by the election of a chairman and secretary. Mr. Beauchamp being selected as the presiding officer.

Rev. Dr. A. Coke Smith, pastor of Granby Street Church, spoke for some time, telling of the object of the league and what it should accomplish. He was attentively listened to, urging a more perfect familiarity of Methodist history and doctrines. Through the organizations of leagues and societies in the churches he looked for greater things. Among these organizations he mentioned the St. Andrew's Brotherhood, Makemie League and Baptist Young People's Union. He wanted to see enthusiasm among the members of Epworth League.

An anthem by the choir was followed by an apology from Mr. Beauchamp for the absence of Rev. E. H. Rawlings, who was to have delivered an address.

The meeting then proceeded to a permanent organization, the following being appointed a committee on by-laws: W. B. Roper, John Brownley and W. P. Dodson.

The committee retired to prepare their report, returning in a short while with a partial report.

The name given the organization was Seaside Union of Epworth League of the M. E. Church South.

After the report of the committee, the following report of all of whom were unanimously elected: President, Rev. W. B. Beauchamp; Vice-Presidents, W. E. Brown, W. P. Dodson and Miss Margaret Roper; Secretary, W. B. Daughters.

After benediction by Rev. W. E. Edwards the meeting adjourned.

A pleasing feature of the exercises was a solo by Miss Ewell.

THE POLICE COMMISSIONERS.

The Regular Meeting Held, But Little Business Transacted.

The Board of Police Commissioners met at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Messrs. Bolton and Pettit present, Mayor Pettit presiding.

The first business before the board was the investigation of the causes of Officer Sykes' resignation. Officer Taylor was the first witness called and testified that on last Friday night he was attracted to the lane next to the house kept by Kitty Wilson, on Church street, by a number of sailors. He went in the lane and ordered them out, whereupon Kitty Wilson, keeper of the disreputable house next to the lane, came out and requested him to go in and quiet a man inside who was drunk and threatening to shoot. He went into the house and found Officer Sykes inside very drunk and boisterous. He attempted to take his pistol from him, but found that he did not have it on him.
